I.BACKGROUND

According to the Department of Health, the Philippines has seen many outbreaks of emerging infectious diseases and is susceptible to re-emerging infections such as leptospirosis, dengue, meningococemia, and tuberculosis. The current situation emphasizes the risks and highlights the need to improve local, national, and international preparedness against future pandemics. New pathogens will continue to emerge and spread across regions, challenging public health as never before signifying grim repercussions and health burden. These may cause countless morbidities and mortalities, disrupting trade and negatively affecting the economy.

In addition, Emerging and Re-emerging Infectious Diseases are unpredictable and create a gap between planning and concrete action.
